DESERT LANDS.

It seems that Nevada and her wants do not trouble the officials at Washington very much. There is only one public building in the State and it seems that every sectional legislation is bounded by the State line of Nevada. They come towards us from all directions, but never reach the Silver State. The history of the attempt to reclaim desert lands is an apt illustration of our treatment.

Some years ago Congressman Kendall, who represented Nevada in the Lower House of Congress, introduced a bill to encourage the boring of artesian wells by giving grants of public lands to those who succeeded in getting flowing water on the deserts. Since then the idea suggested by him has been embodied in an Act of Congress making an appropriation for boring artesian wells somewhere in the arid regions west of the Missouri river. The supervision of the work has been entrusted to Commissioner Loring, who has appointed Professor White, of Greeley, Colorado, and Professor Aughey, of Lincoln, Nebraska, to select the place in which the work shall be carried on. The Commissioner in his instructions to Professor White has confined the experiments to an area comprising the western portion of Dakota, Nebraska, a strip of western Kansas, the eastern portion of Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico, and about one-third of Texas. Nevada, which originated the idea, is to derive no benefit whatever from the Act of Congress.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Sitting Bull declares that he did not want to come into the United States and surrender. He says: "My friends that came got soap and ax-handles, but not enough to eat." But has needed an axe handle or a pick for years. With the pick handle exercise every day S. B. might become a good Indian.

If we are going to restrict Chinese immigration under the new treaties it is time to begin. The arrivals from that country for the fiscal year 1880 were 5,802, but for the fiscal year 1881 they were 10,498. An increase of nearly 100 per cent. in a single year is significant.

In an audience which he gave to Minister White, Monday, Emperor William said he wished the relations between Germany and America might continue as intimate as they had been since the time of Frederick the Great.

The assessed value of all the taxable property in the State of Illinois for 1881 is $746,679,673, of which $575,934,938 is real estate, $168,674,777 personal property, and $2,069,937 taxable railroad property.

An American missionary has obtained from General Ignatieff an order directing the authorities of the Caucasus to grant him facilities for pursuing his labors.

Should Arthur Become President.

NEW YORK, Aug. 17.

The Herald asserts confidently that if Arthur should become President he will make no changes in the Administration and will make no removals from office at large, except for cause.

He will attempt no change in the policy or in the personnel of the present Administration, and although it is equally certain that the members of the present Cabinet and some other important officers of the Government may offer their resignations, Arthur will at once ask them to continue in office, and it will be their highest duty to the country to do so. There will be no Cabinet changes. There will be no new policies attempted, but the country will go on and public business will go on just as before.

The trial of J. D. Robeson, charged with the murder of J. D. Robb, was called Monday at Astoria. Great difficulty was experienced in impanelling a jury, over seventy-five persons being called and questioned before twelve were obtained. The trial will probably last most of the week. The testimony is entirely circumstantial, and Robeson denies any knowledge of the sanguinary deed. Much interest is felt in the result of the trial. The defendant is a nephew of the ex-Secretary of War.

A Comet Coming.

The new comet is only 94,000,000 miles from the earth, and on the 20th inst., when it reaches its nearest point to the earth, it will be startlingly visible to the naked eye at 50,000 miles. It is a more formidable looking comet than that of 1858, the telescopes say.

OREGON NOTES.

A Former Resident of Ormsby County Tells What he Thinks of a Web-footed Country.

Last week the Silver State referred to the fact that a party of Government surveyors are in the field east of Fort McDermitt. It has since been learned that two other surveying parties are at work over the Nevada line from McDermitt to Oregon. A fourth party, comprising twelve or fourteen men, is at work in the southern part of the county. This party, the Silver State is informed by ex-Sheriff Miller, has surveyed the whole country near the Salt Marsh, and is working north up by Hot Springs towards Pleasant valley. The country which is being surveyed is of no use whatever for agricultural purposes. The valleys are alkaline or sandy plains, and the mountains are almost entirely desolate of grass or water. The men suffer from thirst and frequently have to travel twelve or fourteen miles to water. The lands are valueless except for what minerals may be in the mountains, yet they are being surveyed into townships and sections at the expense of the public. This is done for no other purpose than to transfer money from Uncle Sam's purse into the pockets of those who are in favor with the guardians of the Treasury. Under an Act of Congress for the relief of settlers on unsurveyed lands, any person may deposit with a Commissioner, appointed by the United States Court of the District in which the lands are situated, $800 in money, that being the average cost of surveying a township. The Commissioner then authorizes the Government surveyor of the District to make a survey of the township, and receives the $800 for his services. The person depositing the $800 receives $800 in land scrip, which is receivable at its par value for Government land in any part of the United States. It is supposed that parties have entered into an arrangement for having the worthless deserts of Nevada surveyed into townships under this act. The actual cost of surveying one of these townships is putting up monuments every six miles on worthless lands, which no one will ever pay any attention to, is probably less than $100, for which the Ring which has the work done receives $800 in land scrip, for which brokers readily pay 90 cents on the dollar, and which is as good as coin or greenbacks for purchasing public lands."

I have managed to make about expenses since I came here by strict attention to business and a close observance of the rules of auxiliary book-keeping, with frequent visits to the wild strawberry patches to keep expenses down to the balance point.

I am not doing anything now and cannot recommend you or anybody else to come to Oregon to make a living or anything else. Gees, to do well, ought to go north early in the spring. It has rained more than two-thirds of the time since I came here, it is now clear for the first time. The State fair is now in full blast here and is a perfect failure, except the races, and the attendance at them would not make one-quarter of a Sunday School picnic in Carson. There is no money in Oregon and the people are discouraged. They sell pools on their first class race horses for $1 for first choice in a race of six entries, so you can judge what the sixth or last would bring. I did not stop to see, but I suppose a 5 cent nickel.

As soon as the fair is over I am going to eastern Oregon if I can get there. There is little use in trying to do anything in the shower bath business in a country where it rains all the time. I expect to get back to Carson in about two months. If anything comes to my notice that I could recommend to you I will do so at once, and if you find anything more than you want please let me know and I will come and get it too quick. Yours truly, ORMSBY.

A Prosperous Road.

The Nevada Central narrow gauge is doing a fine business. They sent out 17 loaded cars yesterday morning. The Company is short of cars but has a lot of new ones on the way from Omaha, which will give them a full supply. Superintendent Dunn understands his business and is conducting the road in a creditable manner.

Home Again.

Col. J. W. Hanford, the popular paymaster of the C. P. R. R., passed through on the overland yesterday. He looks pale and hearty and had a genial word for all his old railroad friends about the Depot, who were glad to see him looking so well after his trip East.

SURVEYING THE LAND.

How the Work is Carried on Under the New Regulations of the Department.

The southern mail comes in at 2 o'clock P.M. and goes out at 9:45 A.M., therefore you see we can't answer a letter before we get it.

I wrote you from Portland over two months ago after seeing your people there—that is, 13 of the female portion of them—the young Dr. had just graduated and was too sick to see me. His mother said he would call on me at my hotel (kept by Brown, formerly of the North Carson mine, the St. Charles, Good man and good mine and good hotel), but he failed to do it, so I don't owe him anything for that visit.

This is a good country, and a man could do well here if he had money enough to buy out the people and improve it. They are the slowest people on earth. It takes the average Oregonian about six months to make up his mind about anything, except that he is suspicious of strangers and doesn't like Californians or Nevadans, which is all the same to him. It will be some time yet before he finds out the difference.

They have the name of being web-footed, but some of them are cloven-footed. They all have moss on their backs.

One can live very cheap up here, provided he can get anything to live on. Board and lodgings costs here from $4 to $40 per week, lodgings cost more than board. They would rather feed you on spring chickens than beef steak, and the latter is only 7 cents per pound.

A good shop butcher with a large heavy hand gets good wages here, whenever they can get a job—that is, good wages for this country, about $30 to $40 per month and what he can pick up around loose. All the butchers I know of own the shops in which they do their own work, and very little of it at that, for there is no money in the country, and it is about impossible to get a cent out of anybody here except an emigrant.

My wife wrote me the other day that you had gone to Arizona to open a store. She did not say whose store you was going to open, I guess she did not know.

I have managed to make about expenses since I came here by strict attention to business and a close observance of the rules of auxiliary book-keeping, with frequent visits to the wild strawberry patches to keep expenses down to the balance point.

It is not doing anything now and cannot recommend you or anybody else to come to Oregon to make a living or anything else. Gees, to do well, ought to go north early in the spring. It has rained more than two-thirds of the time since I came here, it is now clear for the first time. The State fair is now in full blast here and is a perfect failure, except the races, and the attendance at them would not make one-quarter of a Sunday School picnic in Carson. There is no money in Oregon and the people are discouraged. They sell pools on their first class race horses for $1 for first choice in a race of six entries, so you can judge what the sixth or last would bring. I did not stop to see, but I suppose a 5 cent nickel.

As soon as the fair is over I am going to eastern Oregon if I can get there. There is little use in trying to do anything in the shower bath business in a country where it rains all the time. I expect to get back to Carson in about two months. If anything comes to my notice that I could recommend to you I will do so at once, and if you find anything more than you want please let me know and I will come and get it too quick. Yours truly, ORMSBY.

The Trains.

The east-bound overland arrived this morning an hour late. Cause of detention, a heavy train. The west-bound overland is on time to-night.

A MISSING MAN.

Mahlon Royce Disappears and His Neighbors Believe He Fell From his Horse and was Dragged to Death.

On Monday last, G. Johnson of Clover Valley, was out hunting cattle and came upon a riderless horse, with a saddle under his belly, feeding near the roadside. He recognized the horse as one belonging to Mahlon Royce, who is running a dairy at the Johnson ranch. Young Johnson tried to find Mahlon, but not succeeding, he rode back to J. L. Crow's place, and told some men working there what he had seen and a party was formed to search for Mahlon. This was on Monday afternoon, and the only trace found of him up to Tuesday afternoon were the marks made by his body as it was dragged across the road in two different places. The supposition is that the saddle turned under his horse, and he was dragged until insensible, or else had been so badly hurt that he crawled off somewhere and died.

A Valuable Experience.

Few men are better known throughout the State than the Methodist denomination than D. W. Bartine, D. D. M. D. Speaking of a most critical incident in his life, he said: "Some time since I found myself suffering from what is known as Albinismia. By the use of a reliable test I found albumen in the urine, and in some slight degree in a few instances in a coagulated state. I suffered from dropsy, particularly about the ankles, slight pains about the kidneys, a derangement of digestion, great dryness of the skin, at times great thirst, and of course a gradual failing of strength. This was about the State of things when I commenced using Warren's safe kidney and liver cure. I took about six tablespoonfuls every day for a week, when I found all my symptoms decidedly improved, and at the end of two weeks it was difficult to detect any trace of albumen. Having imprudently taken cold, I had a very slight relapse some two weeks ago, when I again began using the medicine, and am now as well as ever." The doctor's symptoms are common as headache, and yet, unless taken in time, they may lead to the worst results, which the remedy above named will certainly prevent.

Compelled to Lick a Girl's Shoes.

Kansas City Times.

An incident illustrating the gallantry of frontiersmen toward women is related of William Porter, better known as Comanche Bill, Gen. Terry's favorite scout. It happened in Wichita a few weeks since. Bill rode into the town dressed in a complete suit of buckskin and with a gang of honest rangers at his back. As he went along he saw a "counter jumper," as he was pleased to call him, roughly catch a little girl about 18 years old (Bill's idea of a "little" girl) by the shoulder and solicit her attention. The girl withdrew her arm angrily, and just then the scene fell upon Bill's personal inspection.

"She was a poor girl," says Bill, "and plainly clad in an old dress, but I wasn't going to see her insulted by any darned counter hopper, under my mountain eyes. I just jumped down from my horse, and I called for that fellow to stop. He didn't seem to want to, but I made him stop. I took up the little girl in my arms and sat her down on a box. I took off her shoes and said to the counter jumper: 'Now I want you to get down and lick the dust off the soles of that poor girl's feet whom you have insulted.'

"And I made him do it. He looked down in the muzzle of a 45-caliber Colt's for just about half a minute, and then he came to his milk like a little lamb."

"And I made him lick that girl's feet, though a big crowd gathered around, but I had all my men with me, and did not care whether they liked it or not."

Cured of Drinking.

"A young friend of mine was cured of an insatiable thirst for liquor, which had tortured him for months, by the use of Hop Bitters. He was entirely cured by the use of Hop Bitters. It allayed all the burning thirst, it took away the appetite for liquor, it made him feel well, and he has now a sober and steady man for more than two years, and has no desire to return to his cup. I know of a number of others that have been cured of drinking by it."—From a leading H. R. Official Ch page 111s.
